

CIH Scotland Rethinking Membership Project

Workshops and Survey

We want to reimagine the way we connect with and support housing professionals in Scotland.

As a membership body, it's vital that what we offer reflects what housing professionals want and need from us – now and in the future. Our new Rethinking Membership project is your chance to tell us this and what you think we should do to make it happen.

There are different ways to have your say - you have the choice of taking part in our short online survey or attending one of the following workshops:

- Glasgow, Loretto Housing office, Thursday 7th March, 1:00-3:00pm
- Dumfries, DGHP office, Friday 8th March, 1:00-3:00pm
- Edinburgh, CIH Scotland office, Thursday 4th April, 09.30-11am

To book a space on one of these workshops, please email scotland@cih.org and further details will be sent to you in due course.

The deadline to take part in the survey is Friday 5th April and we'll use the results to make recommendations to the CIH executive team and governing board.

We also want to hear from you about your key priorities and concerns for the year ahead, to help us shape our work programme for 2019 and have included questions in the survey on this.

For more information, please call CIH Scotland on 0131 225 4544 or email scotland@cih.org
